EECBG GRANTEE IMPLEMENTATION SURVEY

This survey is designed to collect information on your government's energy policies and experiences with the EECBG program. This study is being conducted by Florida State University to better understand the implementation of local government sustainability programs. Your participation is voluntary and your answers will remain confidential to the full extent allowed by law. Information on individual governments will not be identified in any reports.

The survey should take about 30 minutes to complete and individual responses will be confidential. Please contact me or if you have any questions.
